

Selling Europe: Research European Trade and Investment in the United States

Project Title	Selling Europe: Research European Trade and Investment in the United States
Project Summary	Are you ready to help us update our EuroAtlantic story? The relationship between Europe and the United States is invaluable -- we are historic Allies and key partners. However, how we convey the importance of the relationship needs a reboot.
Country	United States
Agency	Department of State
DoS Office	EUR/ERA
Post	N/A
Section	N/A
Number of Interns	1

Project Description

The Bureau of European and Eurasian Affairs seeks the assistance of a virtual intern to help us monitor, research, and analyze the positive impact of European foreign direct investment in the 50 United States and find a way to convey that data in a contemporary, graphic-driven narrative. The intern will conduct open source research from a wide range of sources and have the opportunity to create state-specific fact sheets/infographics and draft other written research documents. This internship is perfect for students interested in the Euro-Atlantic relationship.

Desired Skills Interests

Additional Information

This project would be ideal for an international relations or economics student but is open to students from any academic background.

Language Requirements

None